"Follow My Heart"

I saw you at midnight, in a dream that I had.

>From nowhere, you stood there, and you seemed so sad.

And a vicious decision is drivin' me mad.

Should I follow my head, or follow my heart?

You were different, indifferent, unbelievably cool.

I approached you, to show you, that I'm nobody's fool.

And an error, caused terror, as I sensed your dare.

Should I follow my head, or follow my heart?

Should I follow my head, or follow my heart?

You've got the lead, baby I've got a start.

Should I follow my head?

Should I follow my heart?

Should I follow my head, or my heart?

Follow my heart
