FIRE BURNS Äf' SPENCER BOHREN, 1990

You'll come back for more. You'll come back for sure.

Happens all the time.

First you'll turn the key, open up the door,

Then you'll cross the line.

You will feel the heat. Yeah, it feels so sweet

While the flames leap higher.

Then she'll take your hand, lead you from the pan

Into the fire.

Fire burns. It's your turn.

You'll never learn 'til the fire burns.

Once you turn the key you are going to see

Someone you never knew.

Take it straight from me. I'm your friend.

Please don't be a fool.

Fire burns. It's your turn.

It's how you learn 'til the fire burns.
