Don't fly away without saying good bye
We have the same dreams
Unknown yesterday, he'll become a friend for
A day
A month
A year
For a life

The words are connected and build your history
Your so fragile history will be sheltered tonight
And continue on your path without turning back
So Take only - only what you need

I'm back to the same place
You are missing however Unknown yesterday, she'll become a friend for
A month
A year
For a life

The words are connected and build your history
Your so fragile history will be sheltered tonight
And continue on your path without turning back
Take only - only what you need

He mourns the one he lost in an instant
She mourns the mother who still guides her Unknown yesterday, they'll become friends for
A month
A year
For a life

The words are connected and build your history
Your so fragile history will be sheltered tonight
And continue on your path without turning back
Take only - only what you need

The words are connected and build your history
Your so fragile history will be sheltered tonight

So take only what you need
And continue on your path without turning back
Take only - only what you need

When I can't offer u anything anymore take what's left
Only what you need
And leave me
Take only - only what you need.
