[Verse 1]

Everything we do is the act of killing for food
I'm a hunter, a animal, but dictate the mood
I'm sitting in the tall grass eyes on my prey
I been here for hours, I might be here for days
I got one shot to get it, but it only takes a moment
Like hold 'em, never take my eyes off my opponent
I'm not human I can hear a needle drop in the breeze
I'm praying on my knees and my prey is on its knees
And it's slightly sedated by the whistling of the leaves
I just wait it out patiently and blend in with the trees
I'm similar to humans, I kill my own kind
I will wipe out entire families to survive
And I'm starving now, I can taste the blood on my lips
Haven't eaten in 4 days and the air is so thick
And the sun is so rich that I'm losing energy
Now I'm waiting for a blink to engage my enemy

[Hook]

[Verse 2]

In a blink I'm a rocket this is art how I see it Gotta focus on my target and control my breathing
In a flash tenth of a second I'm top speed runnin' with light
Seven different types of species runnin' for they f*ckin' life
Locked on my prey, I just need one
To get me through another couple days in the sun
Got just enough energy for this here run
No two ways about it cuz I gotta get it done
And I'm moving so fast that I can't feel the ground
But it's all in slow motion and I can't hear a sound
I can do this with my eyes closed, or blinded by dark
Built to be the perfect killer, kid I always hit my mark
I let my mind drift, I don't think about sh*t I just spit
Close the gap, make contact and that's it
Every action is well planned out to serve a purpose But you'll never understand them if you're looking at the surface

[Hook]

[Verse 3]

Finally I'm eatin' other creatures eyeing my kill No way I'm givin' it up they know this but still Could never eat in peace so keep extra eyes on the street
See the brotherhood is deep and understands how to eat
Ain't no right or wrong kid this is survival of the smartest
The illest, the rawest, it was written in the prince before us
It's all connected, but not at first glance
And there's a much bigger plan and nothing happens by chance
