Somewhere in the distance---somewhere down the line

A trace of an illusion is etched upon my mind

A fool's infatuation poundin' in my brain

I fell into your face before I ever knew your name

You're no stranger--you know what I like...

You got me in a cross fire, drivin' in my car

You come on like a daydream, you move just like a star

Your lips are my persuasion, your love will be my cure

The path of least resistance is all I can endure

You're no stranger--you know what I like...

Miles of conversation...it's all between the lines

You're in the "A" rotation, you're with me all the time

Our love will go the distance--however near and far

In all of my confusion, I know just who you are

You're no stranger--you know what I like
