You fought for your freedom
You understood the pain
Tell me was it worth it
Would you do it all again

You tried to save your honor
While fighting through the trials
And all along the madness
Still drives the people wild

Danger, there's a red light ahead
Look out for danger, there's a red light ahead

You thought we could make it
Now you know it isn't so
What we never realized
Was how far we had to go

We tried to make our fortunes
Work to ??? us for a while
It seems so very clever
But no one raised a smile

Look out for danger, there's a red light ahead
Look out there's a danger, there's a red light ahead

You walk through the city
No shelter from the rain
Wand'rin' through the sea of faces
The ranks of the insane

You thought you could fake it
Now you know that wasn't sound
Sensing something's just not right
You stop to look around

Danger, there's a red light ahead
Look out for danger, there's a red light ahead
Danger, there's a red light ahead
red light ahead

Look out
Look out
Look out ...
