And we'll die for our sins if we mean it like we say we do
This is all we all amount to
We've cherished faith and hope under northern skies
The moment's lost and so am I
But we'll remember how it was

Take your time for goodbyes
As we fade into the night
On our way back home

Don't you feel unimportant? Not for lack of trying There's no sense resenting what's lost when I'm dying to fight for my life
And we can't say we didn't live our lives not to know that we'd fight for each other
We'll go out together
Because I saw it coming and I can still feel it ending

Chorus

And it can't end like this
Because it won't match beginnings
We're trapped in our silence
This quiet is deafening
The light is decaying
The night we held sacred for so long
For so long

Chorus X 2
