I can remember when he left
It's still pounding in my chest
The pain I felt when he said goodbye
All the nights I tried to call
Cause I needed a father's love
To cheer me on, to lift me up, to be my guide

I try to find my worth
In things that didn't work
My confidence was broken
I was hopeless

But God, You have made me new
You've restored my heart and
Turned these ashes into life
Oh God, You have pulled me through
And everything I was is gone
And washed away for good
I'm a new man in You

I'm trying to walk as a new man
I want You to show me who I am
In You when I forget that I'm Yours
Now I find my worth and it's set in stone
And it's done for good

Cause God, You have made me new
You've restored my heart and
Turned these ashes into life
Oh God, You have pulled me through
And everything I was is gone
And washed away for good
I'm a new man in You

Oh God, You have made me new
You've restored my heart and
Turned these ashes into life
Oh God, You have pulled me through
And everything I was is gone
And washed away for good
And everything I was is gone

And washed away for good
I'm a new man in You
