Don't leave me alone with my thoughts
I can't be responsible
There's a train running through my mind
I think I'm losing control
It's like a dream
I'm running wat too fast
But i'm not getting anywhere
Well it's too late to turn back now
I'm so tired of being scared

You're my medicine
You make me whole
You're my medicine
You heal my soul

I'm too strong to help myself
But I'm not weak enough to cry
You hold me up, swallow the dark
And I still wonder why

You're my medicine
You make me whole
You're my medicine
You heal my soul

You're my medicine
You're my medicine
You're my medicine

You're my medicine
You're my medicine
You're my medicine

You're my medicine
You make me whole

You're my medicine
You're my medicine
You're my medicine

You're my medicine

You're my medicine
You're my medicine

You're my medicine
You're my medicine
You're my medicine

You're my medicine
You're my medicine
You're my medicine

You're my medicine
You're my medicine
You're my medicine

You're my medicine
You're my medicine
You're my medicine
