Will we ever be the same again?
Sister, brother, mother, child and friend
Suddenly we don't seem so different anymore

The earth is shaking underneath our feet
The war has moved into our city streets
Suddenly things are so different than before

Will you remember
When the pictures fade and the memories turn to gray?
Will you remember
When the dust settles and the sun shines in?

A father taken from his wife and sons
A daughter left to wander through this world alone
No use in tryin' to make sense of all these things, no

Rain down, rain down
(Rain down)
Healing waters on this land
(Come on everybody now)
Rise up, rise up everyone
(Everyone)
Everyone

Will you remember
When the pictures fade and the memories turn to gray?
Will you remember
When the dust settles and the sun shines in?

Gotta shine in
(Shine, shine)
It's gotta shine in
(Shine, shine)
Everyone

Will you remember
When the pictures fade and the memories turn to gray?
Will you remember
When the dust settles and the sun shines in?

Sun shines in, sun shines in

Sun shines in
