SPACE PUNK:

When you walk into darkness and you walk into night
Better put by your troubles, better put by your fright Cause you wanna go forward and you know it's the wrong time to look back,
Yes, it may be a long time till you see the light
But you'll see the light!
Don't be afraid of the dark. Don't be afraid of the dark.
Don't be afraid of the dark. You're gonna see the light!
It'll take a whole lot more than a shadow to scare you
It'll take a whole lot more than an idol threat to give us a fright
It'll take a whole lot more than that to make us up tight
You've got the power, this is the hour - you're gonna see the light!

The enemy's out there and it's chaos and fear
You wanna cry like a baby when that darkness comes near
You may think that they got us where it hurts,
but you're so wrong
We can give 'em their just desserts,
So start by singin' this song - Start by singin' this song:

STARMITES: (variously)

I ain't afraid of the dark! I ain't afraid of the dark!
I ain't afraid of the dark! We're gonna see the light!

ELEANOR:

I'm as brave as any boy. Don't you dare patronize Don't you treat me like a toy (Little man, I'll put you wise)
I got chutzpah to spare, with your macho you bore me
Just keep your place, I'm ready to face the danger before me!

[ENSEMBLE SECTION - Eleanor, Punk, Starmites]
