MOTHER:

You closed your eyes, and maybe then
You sailed to another world and back again
But please remember, it was just pretend. Pretend...

BIZARBARA:

It wasn't a dream, it wasn't a dream
It was out of this world, but it wasn't a dream
It wasn't a dream, it wasn't a dream
It was magic, but it wasn't a dream.
They tell me every dream must end,
And even though you say it was pretend
And though I'm never going back again
It never was, it never was, it never was a dream
I know in my heart...
