So its safe to say that we've been here before,
Heart torn out, Down for the count,
And still come back for more,
This lesson is learned too well,
Though only unlearned by the time your wounds have healed,

Have you had enough?
I guess not, 'cause your lips are stuck to his.
Its time to say enough is enough you'd be so better off,
You love him but tough 'cause its not coming back from him,
You cant win

Stop expecting change,
Hes just a lost cause that you're waiting on,
Take a look around, you could have anyone,
So leave undeserving him.

It only hurts at first, but then youll find someone to give you everything you want,
Try not to go running back to him,

So it goes unsaid that we've been here before, Lonely nights, and endless fights and sleeping on the floor,
He's sorry, so the story goes,
It's read and replayed and ends the same way.

Stop expecting change,
Hes just a lost cause that you're waiting on,
Take a look around, you could have anyone,
So leave undeserving him.

Stop expecting change,
Hes just a lost cause that youre waiting on,
Take a look around, you could have anyone,
So leave undeserving him.
