Today you're gonna leave
Just like you did the day before
Watch by the windowsill
You disappear into the corner store

I could swear that I saw you slip out the back door
You left your set of keys and left me alone

I'm pacing our apartment
My head's a broken record, I can't think
I keep repeating
The very last word that you said to me

You didn't tell me you loved me, just "goodbye"
And there was something kinda final in it

Stay
Everything is wrong without you
Stay
My whole world's a wreck
Oh, will you save me now
Or leave me crazy ever after

I'm in a weak condition
And now you cut into the heart of me
You got my mind racing
Losing my grip on reality

You got me second guessing
What's true and what's a lie
Why don't you look me in the eye when I say

Stay
Everything is wrong without you
Stay
My whole world's a wreck
Oh, will you save me now
Or leave me crazy ever after

I don't know how to be alone
I don't know how to be

Alone
I don't know how to be alone
