Now, when my thoughts have left with you, I'll cry.
I have no tears to see me through.
That's why I never talk about it.
I love you.

Never cared about love.
With all the doubts I was confused.
I can't face my real world.
Please don't shout 'cause that won't do.
There's times I can't fight it, but I love you.
I love you.

Here's what I think of you.
Here's why I need you to.
That's what I'm trying to do,
all this stuff for you.

Why ignore the danger in the things you do?
If I took just a wild guess,
I'd have to say we're through.
But I always was a dreamer.
I love you.
