Inhale, Exhale

Take a step away

Just relax your mind

Been there done that.

Seen it all before.

My eyes are open wide.

Wouldn't we all like to see a world that's more free

If only from the prison of your mind

Wouldn't we all like to feel a world that's more real if only for you and I

You need more life

Like I need more love

We need more love everyday

You need more life

Like I need more love

We need more love everyday

We've got one chance to live this life

To live each precious day

So set your sights up to the sky

Let nothing stand in your way

Wouldn't we dare to dream the impossible dream

If we thought we could make things right

Wouldn't we all like to feel a world that's more real

If only for you and I

You need more life

Like I need more love

We need more love everyday

You need more life

Like I need more love

We need more love everyday

There are times when you need a hand

We'll find strength and we'll find a way to stand

Don't lose hope

We've only began to see the possibility

Thought I know you've lost your way!

You need more life

Like I need more love

We need more love everyday

You need more life

Like I need more love

We need more love everyday
