As I wander down this road
The only road Iâ€™ve known
I find myself so confused
How did I get this way?
Will I be ok?
Will I fall apart in yours?

Who could ask for more than everything a man could give
Short of death from lies?
When nothing ever seems to work out right
Do you stay and fight and never think twice?
Is that love?

And no one said that life was easy
No one said that life was fair
But nobody said that love would fail
And every night I cry
I feel like I could die a thousand times
Before the sunrise

Who could ask for more than everything a man could give
Short of death from lies?
When nothing ever seems to work out right
Do you stay and fight and never think twice?
Is that love?

Every night I can feel your power
Every day my soul races for you...for you Every night and every day from the midnight hour I can feel your heart in mine.

I can feel your heart.
