She smiles at me
Then brings coffee to the table
Then pours sugar in my cup
I need her here like she's a drug
Whispers that she wants me
Then take over my body
From the kitchen to the bedroom
You're just like the day I met you
Cold and calm the ring's not on the hands
I know that I left it
She's packed her bags, cause now she's had it

Don't look at me with those eyes, I'm still leaving Yeah the sugar in my cup has lost it's flavor like your touch
With one call to the taxi
She walks right past me
From the stairway to the front-door
One goodbye then I was no more

(CHORUS)

And I've got apologies on napkins
With all the things to say
I say I'm sorry for a reaction
But you're still walking away
(And I know) I'm too late
(Stay - wait) don't wait by the bedside
I'm not coming back this time
(No not this time)

Run after her
This could be just like a movie
See me standing in the rain
How easily she looks right through me
Go inside she's crying
The last three years she's been lying
My life's a rainstorm of 'I love you's
I left you stepping in the puddles
Drive away, go against fate
You screwed me over like always
Babe, one day you will be sorry

(CHORUS)

We started playing in the rain
I'm who I am - I'll never change
And I hope lightning strikes me down
I'll show you and this whole town
That I'm one in a million
And never wanted to fit in any place
Except your heart
But we grew apart
Now rainy days are all I have
And I keep dreaming in the past
Will you keep me awake?
No more I can take
And I'm still breathing.
Keep me breathing, keep me breathing.
