You left by the highway, you took everything you had Tryin' to find a little peace of mind somewhere
You made up your own mind so don't ask me how I feel
You blew me away, what more can I say to you?

Don't let a mystery show fool you all the time
Better still don't read between the lines

It started in heaven but finished with rock 'n' roll
The sun went down, you just turned around to go
You couldn't take what I had to give, I couldn't give you any more
You made up your mind, don't ask me how I feel

Don't let a mystery show fool you all the time
Better still don't read between the lines
Better still don't read between the lines

It started in heaven but finished with rock 'n' roll
It started in heaven but finished with rock 'n' roll

It started in heaven but finished with rock 'n' roll
It started in heaven but finished with rock 'n' roll
Oh, it started in heaven but finished with rock 'n' roll
Yes, it started in heaven but finished with rock 'n' roll

Ooh, it started in heaven but finished with rock 'n' roll
Oh, it started
