When I was a stranger to you in the night
And the feeling tells you, out of sympathy
To open up your wings, turn your head to the sky
Take off like a bird, let your heart be free

I found deep feeling devotion
The day that I found your love

I can see above the diamond-studded sky
Hear the sound of night life passing by
Scent the early morning with every breath of air
Taste the secret potion that we both share

I found deep feeling devotion
The day that I found your love

I found deep feeling devotion
The day that I found your love
