

Wishbone Ash

"Wait Out The Storm"

Visit "Wait Out The Storm" on MotoLyrics.com

There's a light in the distance, burning faithfully
Can't you show your resistance to the enemy?
Make your way under cover of night
You brave bad weather and you hold on tight
See the light in the distance, burning faithfully

Why don't you see it burn, it's plain as day?
When will you ever learn that it's better this way?
You point a finger and you turn your back
There's no disguise for the faith you lack
There's a light in the distance, burning faithfully

The pale blue yonder is calling me
These days I wonder where you'll go
And what you'll be

Wait out the storm, that's all that you can do
Praying for dawn, let the bell ring true
Wait out the storm, that's all that you can do
Praying for dawn, let the bell ring true

Wait out the storm, that's all that you can do
Praying for dawn, let the bell ring true
Yeah, wait out the storm, that's all that you can do
Wait out the storm

Visit Wishbone Ash page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.