As He left is how He shall return
Separating the sky
It's up to you what choice will you decide
Will you live or will you die?

Many things are written, written in His word
Prophecies being fulfilled
Suffering and pain for the wicked ones
But peace for those who have been sealed

Time is short, now count the cost
He will come back to judge the lost
Time is short, now count the cost
He will come back to judge the lost

Earthquakes and famines
A world that's filled with pain
Hatred and war
The suffering begins

Earthquakes and famines
A world that's filled with pain
Vengeance and murder
The earth is at its end

As He left is how He shall return
Separating the sky
It's up to you what choice will you decide?
Will you live or will you die?

As He left is how He shall return
Separating the sky
It's up to you what choice will you decide
Will you live or will you die?
