im empty, bleeding gently while you eyes look on entently but there looking so hollow, too hard to follow Your dark eyes sympathize with teenage dreams and suicide And now were feeling so hollow, its so hard to swallow Now I know you dont want to But you know that we've got to

Feel, something so real somthign to set you free
from what you see
feel something so real
something to set you free
we've got to feel

Seductions, repercussions amplify my self distruction now you looking so hollow, its too hard to follow your dark eyes empathize with teenage screams and suicide And now were lookign so hollow, its too hard to swallow

but i know that we've got too can you breath it in a dream of something more? is it heaven or have you just found the door?

can you breath it in a dream od anything?

something so real
we've got to
