Life on the outside of a fantasy
The more I bleed, the longer we breathe
And I could have sworn my heart was broken
Since we're having fun
Now you're the one alone with me

And if you keep talking crazy 'bout a promise land
I'll understand and I'm willing to lie, whoa
Hard to be stuck on this desert island
My head all in the sand, no complications

Come on let's kick the sun
We'll become one as the temperature rises

I saw the future, don't know how it ends
It might depend on whether we leave

And in the moment it was open
You've done jumped the gun
And sunk our dreams out here in the sea
And I said

Don't come unstuck on this desert island
Imagination ends while hope is fading
From here to kingdom come
You are the one I'm floating beside

Somewhere our love stand away's
By the way, by the sign
We built Atlantis in the space of a day
Our new home, our new home

Our new home, our new home
Our new home, our new home
Our new home, our new home
Our new home, our new home

We built our own utopia, baby
Our own utopia, baby
Our new home, our new home

We built our own utopia baby

Our new home, our new home
Our new home, our new home

Our own utopia baby
Our new home, our new home
Our new home, our new home

Our new home, our new home
Our new home, our new home
Our new home, our new home
Our new home, our new home
