If you're seeking repair for figure eights in the ice in your stare

Seven stories we're climbing tonight
So if you're angry about the fact that it's red I'll surrender, I'll change it to white

Sneaking looks at you sleeping around At you, grass stained and drunk on the ground

So we're taking you down with the scissor, paper, rock
again
(So we're taking you down)
Scissor, paper, rock again

So we're taking you down with the scissor, paper, rock
again
(So we're taking you down)
Scissor, paper, rock again

again
(So we're taking you down)
