(John Anonymous)

A violent light shines to the sky.

It leaves a residue of pain.

The blood red terror in their eyes.

The loss of friends you'll never hear again.

Chorus

Did ya happen to see the world today?

It was lost and blue among the silver stars.

Did ya happen to see the world today?

You can get caught up in your dreams.

A lucky day ya don't get hurt.

Ain't it funny, how a twist of minds can leave you off and living in the dirt.

Chorus

The world today, the world today.

The world today, the world today.

It was lost and blue, the world today.

It was lost and blue, the world today.
