What ever happened to the promises you made
Those little notions of your breakthrough day
My one mistake was in making some room
Leaving doors unlocked that you pushed through
And taking to my time

Some you lose
And some you give away
Some you lose
And some you give away

I lost some friends out on that empty road
Get back together, Its always them you know
For I dont get you, leave a mark on your back
Like the piece that doesn't fit
In the jar that cracked
Forgetting what you've been told

Some you lose
And Some you give away
Some you lose
And some you give away
You give away
Yeah Yeah Yeah

I lit some candles by the side of your house
'Case you got lost or needed showing out
Maybe we'll pass through L.A again
Older and better, with all the charm of friends
It's unlikely, if the truth be told

Some you lose
And some you give away
Some you lose and some you give away

I lost some friends out on that empty road
I lost some friends out on that empty road
I lost some friends out on that empty road
Yeah I can't get through to people I know

Some you lose

Some you give away
Some you lose
Some you give away
