Only the Love.

Music and lyric: Cristi  n Renner Solar

A storm is passing by right the moon
She lights me enough to see what  s going on I wish that today, the Sun that we are Shines through the clouds, to be who we really are A storm is passing, across the sea
But others are sharing a song, we are not alone

Chorus:

I choose to be, in the love
I came here, to be in the love
I choose to be, in the Love

The winter has come, the winter has gone
The seasons are living and dying and you are still crying
The garden is waiting for my hands today
Living a game, which I really want to play now; I am

I choose to be, in the love
I came here, to be in the love
I choose to be, in the Love

It  s only the Love, only the Love can lead my steps today
It  s only this Fire, it  s only this Force
What makes me see the way, giving me wings

Like the rain with the earth, and the air with the leaves
A deal with the Self, that  s what I  ve done one day
Searching my feelings, the fears are now gone
Singing to you, is giving to me
