Cave dweller, cave dweller hide from the pain
So here be well again
And lover of mine to run from the same
So here be well again

Plot your disease with lies and with blame
So here be well again
Prison with the sun, washed down by the rain
So here be well again

Inside the cages, the beasts they are tame
So here be well again
Fed three times daily and kept in the frame
So here be well again

Incentive to work and driven insane
So here be well again
Come don your best clothes and join the parade
So here be well again

Well, the water's never been there automatically describing words
When the last to begin can be finished the first
And when the drink flows but it won't quench the thirst
So here be well again

So for another, so for the same
So here be well again
They say he had a method for only a shame
So here be well again

Sing to the darkness, an awkward refrain
So here be well again
The road needs repair and the horse it is lame
So here be well again

Did you ever try to work out how life went sour so soon?
You must have had some idea, you were cut from the womb
There's excess baggage but there's no storage room
So here be well again
