With memories of killing time with dreams.
Think of me;
It was so cold we burned.
And as they leave
They cross my mind.
No time; I think it's over.
This life inside
I seem to mind.
Look in your eyes;
You're worlds away,
And life is locked inside you..
They sleep and sleepwalk.
They dissolve to dreams.
Hear children crying;
They're losing everything.
>From heart to heart
The beat, slow, fades.
The sun explodes the night-time.
For all we know
There's nothing changed.
Look in your eyes;
You're worlds away,
Where art is clos to science
A million miles,
A thousand minds,
Now worlds away.
Oh, no, don't say goodbye.
When you can love only one thing,
And they want you to.
It's you, it's you.
Worlds away,
Don't say goodbye.
Worlds away,
Don't...say...good...bye.
