I just ran into a few someones today Someones that I never really knew
And I used to think how I had them all so figured out

But no, none of it's true cuz I never knew you and now the truth of it is, is I wanna be like you So hello, good friend, I wanna be next to you
For my head for my heart for its true

So I'm burning the thoughts of the things that I once said Because you tore down the walls that the world has put inside my head
And I just get sick of things that we think, we think we know

And no, none of it's true cuz I never knew you
and now the truth of it is, is I wanna be like you
So hello, good friend, I wanna be next to you
For my head for my heart for it's true

So take me and save me and change me and then make me
And embrace me and then brave my heart for you
No, No, cuz I can't go on without you Ant it's time for something never knowing

And no, none of it's true cuz I never knew you and now the truth of it is, I wanna be like you
So hello, good friend, I wanna be next to you
For my head for my heart for it's true

And as they strolled along My heart broke out in song From all thing and the thoughts and assumptions that I had wrong
See now I'll be on my way to make this claim I'll make it famous in every way I'll make it stay when I will save it..

No, none of it's true cuz I never knew you

and now the truth of it is, I wanna be like you
So hello, good friend, I wanna be next to you
For my head for my heart for it's true
