turn look, look out and see do you see me cause i think i see you i've been some other place the wind that i chase
it all just leads back to you oh how i'm still, so still its sobering, but still i ran i knew you when i was young but where am i now that i'm a man run to you, i will run, i will run i will move right on through all these things that i have done

and you'll take me back, i don't know why i wanna say i'll never do it again but i can't, but i will try turn look, look and see

the wind that i chase
oh how i miss what you miss but i will fall time and again and i will say that i'm true to you but i'm a cheat, i don't understand so i'll run to you, i will run, i will run

done
i wanna say i'll never do it again but i can't
i wanna say i'll never do it again but i can't
i wanna say i'll never do it again but i can't but i will try
