Everyday I wake up late
Since I quit my day job
I have been sane
But responsibilities sure do remain
But I'll just let them wait

Because I don't know what I am doing now
And I won't try to act like you
Cause I sure don't know how
And I'll admit that I don't know just where I'm going
This long and winding road
That's taking me to what will be my home

So stare and see that this is me
And I will be just what I need to believe
And that something is what I'm gonna be
And what you do is what you do
And what I do is to be true
The things I do may be need to be thought through
But just remember what's right for me
Might be not right for you

(ooh-ooh, ooh-ooh, ooh-ooh, ooh-ooh)

Staring at this mirror and
I'm wondering who you are
Well now's the time for searching
And I just wish I had a car
To drive a long distance
And just think about the war
And how life's got so much more

And how I don't know what I am doing now
And I won't try to act like you
Cause I sure don't know how
And I'll admit that I don't know just where I'm going
This long and winding road
That's taking me to what will be my home

So stare and see that this is me
And I will be just what I need to believe

And that something is what I'm gonna be
And what you do is what you do
And what I do is to be true
The things I do maybe need to be thought through
But I know what I want to do
And I want it to be true
And, yeah, I'd be the first to say
That, of course, I'll listen to you
But remember what's right for me
Might be not right for you
