some things i should have known to see coming and why is this such a burden? and why can't i make it leave? and it's funny if i don't forgive it will kill me so how can i skip the time i need to stop the remembering because i want to and i need to waiting, waiting, i'm trying to get out, to get out but i'm locked right in so take this, take this away from me now so i can live, so i can live we all get there years go by and we forget to care because years went by and there's more despair the cards are dealt and received and it builds up, wears me down its monotonous my personality is colorless becoming bland and asleep and i hate it that i'm stuck here wasting time

so i can live, so i can live [x2]

because i need to live
because i need to live
