Title : I'm Afraid Of Losing You

[VERSE 1]

I don't know how to speak for anyone but myself
You see darling, there's nothing I can say that will save you anyway.
I'll scream loud at the top of my lungs tonight Cause you know that you'll always be my light shooting stars could never be this bright do you know you will always be my light?
[screaming out your name
i'm not used to this there's no turning back there's no going home]

[CHORUS]

I won't breathe until you just tell me everything's alright
I am not scared of losing this
I'm afraid of losing you
I'm sorry that this will not end
But I can't find the strength to speak Cause on the calendar of your events, I'm last week.

[VERSE 2]

Keep your eyes closed and we'll make it through another day alive.
But if we sit here thinking, we're just wasting precious time. so instead of thinking that we're dead lets take apart what we have left and lay it out front of us and take the things that we don't trust [screaming out your name
i'm not used to this
there's no turning back
there's no going home]

[CHORUS]

I won't breathe until you

just tell me everything's alright
I am not scared of losing this
I'm afraid of losing you
I'm sorry that this will not end
But I can't find the strength to speak
Cause on the calendar of your events, I'm last week.

[with background words]
I don't know how to speak for anyone but myself
You see darling, there's nothing I can say
that will save you anyway.

[CHORUS]
I won't breathe until you
just tell me everything's alright
I am not scared of losing this
I'm afraid of losing you
I'm sorry that this will not end
But I can't find the strength to speak
cause on the calendar of your events, I'm last week.

[can you see darling that there's nothing I can say that can save you anyway.]
