Oh, with strangers to impress so near,
Old friends don't realize I'm here.
I wish two drinks were always in me:
I'd pretend I had the perfect ear.

Take me to the water,
Make me understand that I was wrong.

For me, tomorrow is my first day,
So, please, don't tempt in the wrong way.

It's almost after midnight;
I can see the city lites:
We're here.

Change your mind tonite;
You belong to the city now
And youre closer now, I know:
'You belong on the radio...'

I swear I'll give it back tomorrow,
But, for now, I think that I'll just borrow
All the chords from that song
And all the words from that other song I heard Yesterday.

Change your mind tonite;
You belong to the city now
And you're closer now, I know:
'You belong on the radio'

I will not disturb you,
I was just returning you
a compliment.
