[Struggle Da Preacher] (talking) I cry not due to hard life But due to my sensitive heart [Chorus: Asya Solovyova] I kiss away all your tears I am yours You fly away overseas For so long [Verse 1: Struggle Da Preacher] What are my tears for you? Salty drops of water? Remember when they hit ya skin when I hold ya Scauldin' tears heat so badly Fire wounds from them are so deadly on our hearts Everytime I see you its like last time I value every minute holdin' ya arms Those deep scars in my heart keep bleedin You can't stop the flow of blood and bloody tears I'ma seriously mad, I'ma damn upset I can't take the rules of our blue planet People changed the rules, people wanna die Their tears are dead another way of guile In pictures I never smile My soul keep cryin' livin' in this world Only you make me happy But also only you who were able to trap me [Chorus] [Struggle Da Preacher] (talking) I really appreciate your support It means alot to me, I never take it for granted [Verse 2: Struggle Da Preacher] Never say good bye to you say good bye to yesterday By the way I live by the memories of the past days When we were together, when we were like one And nothin could change it, only you and i Now I cry, don't try to calm me Here is the defenition of my teardroppin It's the speech of my soul, every tear is a word Every tear is a statement about the love that I hold I thought i'd never love this way When I saw my father cryin' when mom went away There are many women besides her But only now I know what is to love just one girl Yeah I never played one but was lookin' for one And once I found one there is some shit which put me down I'm cryin so what? You think I am weak? Try to hold what I hold [Chorus] [Struggle Da Preacher] (talking) You know, we are always for each other You know I'm always down with you never gonna leave you, so You not gonna worry about anything, so I'm always here for you as you there for me [Chorus] [Struggle Da Preacher] (talking) Once again I'm still there with you No matter how far I am
