Open you life to a new mother nature she'll come from the skies with a swollen crown of dreams and beauty as bliss the lips of a virgin and the willingness to bless

So open your days to a new mother nature a new mother nature whose love will let reign now open your eyes a shining symbol of a sheltered dominion outside cold iron bunkers will fall her nuclear rain

Now open your eyes to a new mother nature watch her mushroom tower rise from where she'll land see everything before you vast sections being raped in every inch in her aeropostles cultivate

And she's coming....

Days of madness are here when all earth's left barren and clear where the few who live shall share a destiny in an eternal hollow's eve

And she's coming....

The mad cycle has begun And who shall lead the chosen one's As wondering pupils venture on entering the verwirrung the shattered union of lost souls walking across oblivion their destiny is set unknown entering the verwirrung..

A crimson banner painted dark was the sky and slowly all our colours faded as we kissed the clouds goodbye desolation came dragging her name and she slowly walked our floors she took away everything brandishing her crown of thorns..

with a stutter of our eyes down we asked what happened then flood questions too many questions of what to do silence answers tongues tied and our eyes down we walk amongst ourselves now burn flew through his glittered fashion and touched our barren land.. and in one swift motion placed on all the fire kept within hi hand he looked up his flag which he had tinted in the sky and gazing back down at us he cast his dreaded smile falls does the darkness there's no more light left in a rotting sky..

I feel so useless and hopeless but what can I do and I sit here and stare at it a broken picute the sky is silent and she's crying but her tears rain down red..
