You might have seen us once or twice

With our hands clenched of so tight

People stop and stare as we walk by

Well my heart is in her hand

No one will ever understand

How crazy and in love I really am

Don't dial my number

I have no number at all

We'll keep to ourselves

And boy we're better off

We don't need no television

We don't need no phone

We're caught up in this life together

We're fine on our own

We don't need no television

We don't need no phone

We're caught up in this life together

Please leave us alone

I can't tell you when I felt this way

Since we left Montego Bay

We both knew that something started then

Now we're back home in the states

Locking up our heart-shaped gates

You'll slip into your pink and yellow lace
