You broke all the rules this morning
We heard it long before
This talk of a new sensation
But we don't know for sure
So don't go looking for cover
It's not so easy to find
Don't go from one to another
It's just a matter of time

If something's gonna happen
Then something's gotta change, yeah
If something's gonna happen
Then something's gotta change, yeah

He'll never ever love you
The way that I loved you before
But let him try and love you
You'll wind up with me
That's for sure
