Dreaming, tell me if I'm dreaming

Because I just can't believe what my eyes are seeing

It's a mystery 'cause miracles don't happen to me

Who would have thought that on a night like this

I'd ever meet a girl like you

You are the sweetest little accident

I've had the luck to get into

Special, after you were made they broke the mold

'Cause when you smile at me you know I lose control

Well it came so fast, I'll do my best to make it last
