Remember
If we could remember
The moment of our birth
We give our voice to songs and whispers
And no what life is worth

Remember, remember

Suddenly there s beauty
In peace there s all the past
And sorrow clings to angry questions
The days of dust at last

And morning holds us
When worlds come down and down
A dance of ghosts and ragged dreams
Spinning round, spinning round, spinning round

I remember, remember

If we could remember
The power of the light
That cripple prayers are sometimes exert
And hope survives the night, and hope survives the night

I remember, I remember, remember
