I could walk with you for days
And still not get any further down this road
The way I act sometimes
Reminds me of the way I don't want to be

I could talk to you for days
Of all the different ways to get what you want
But that would all mean nothing
Because you'll always want for something

So please shout me down
'Cause I don't know it all

I could talk to you for days
And tell you things that no one else knows
I'd leave no stone unturned
The bottom line when the candle burns out

So don't shout me down
When I don't show it all
