When you come back
The things you see have changed
The seed you were has grown and it's so strange

You flutterbye without a sound
My touch can only bring you down
You flutterbye without a sound
Her touch can only bring you down

I can only see you from inside of you
Your colours have changed my mind
And it's so clear

You flutterbye without a sound
My touch can only bring you down
You flutterbye without a sound
My touch can only bring you down
