do see her lying in her bed and her hands wiping off her tears inside she's screaming out loud and believes that nothing ever is the way it appears she falls asleep, she sinks into her world it's the only place where she feels save

now she knows
what she's been looking for and she jumps off and she flies cause it's cold inside
the world that she's been living in
and it's cold inside herself it's cold, she says
there's more to life than this but it's cold inside herself and the world that she's been living in for so many years she's been trying to get out couldn't take it anymore but she never really knew where to run to didn't know what she was really looking for

she falls asleep, she sinks into her world

and it's cold inside herself
it's cold
and she jumps off and she flies

it's cold, she says

and she knows it can be better but now she's flying anyways
