

Wolfstone

"The Brave Foot Soilders"

Visit "The Brave Foot Soilders" on MotoLyrics.com

I once had a dream where no-one had to walk two hundred miles I once said it would not happen anymore
From the borders to the northlands of this land we call our own Surely this is something worth fighting for

Chorus...

For we are the Brave Foot Soldiers
For we care for those who share in poverty For our children's hopes and dreams and their children's plans and schemes

For we are marching on the road to victory I once had a notion that my father's time had not been wasted
I said at least for us it would be fine Not for us a struggling life of fighting for what we believe in No, our hardships would be of a different kind

Chorus...

I once heard a call that told me it was well worth fighting for I once saw a vision there before my eyes Of a land where there was work for all and plenty more to spare
No more empty promises and no more lies

Chorus...

Visit Wolfstone page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.