Starman tries to be the hero
When everyones already got their own plans
Starman tries so hard to fight the storm
But never does the things he says he can

What breaks you down? What breaks you down?
Wake up and go onto the other side
Oh, turn off your back room light
No one can see you anymore

Starman tries to be the hero
When everyones already got their own plans
Starman tries so hard to fight the storm
But never does the things he says he can

What breaks you down? What breaks you down?
Wake up and go onto the other side
Oh, turn off your back room light
No one can see you anymore

Can you tell me now that fate doesn't see
When your soul shakes back to younger times
Or are you still afraid tonight?
