Graham Russell)

Pictures of you race across my mind

Filling all the space there is to find

Melting love's own ice that lay so frozen

I give that sacrifice for feeling chosen

So if I face another day without you next to me

I'll lock you in my mind and wish away the key

CHORUS

Hope springs eternal when you're near

All the passion reappears

All emotion seems so strong

Hope springs eternal through your eyes

Draws me closer to your side

And keeps me there where I belong

Given back the trust that was so fleeting

Captured by the one my heart was seeking

Taken to my destiny's horizon

Searching for the moon, we see it rising

And in the silence of the night I hold you next to me

Feling dreams take flight, they set the spirit free
