Graham Russell, Rex Goh)

One warm night I fell in love

The air was still the worlds would flow

We knew each other oh so well

And though just met you'd never tell

Sometimes we're just lonely hearts

That ride upon a floating card

Prepared to live those sleepless nights

For precious time in paradise

CHORUS

And now I find the future's gone

The reasons that I had to carry on are gone

I tried for it all

She never heard me call at all

There's no regrets we made the choice

We listened to that silent voice

That haunts you till you just give in

And makes you like a child again

We drifted close then said goodbye

Just reading well each other's eyes

The world had turned while we stood still

And held on to each other

And in between the right and wrong

Is somewhere that sometimes you can belong

I cried for it all

She never heard me call

And now I find the future's gone

The reasons that I had to carry on are gone

I cried for it all

She never heard me call at all
