Graham Russell/M. Sherwood/D. Young)

Tonight you are the world to me, part of the mystery

And we don't need a reason to love

Say you'll never go, that's all I need to know

And when you close your eyes, I'll still be here

And if the world falls

You will be the only reason to love

I'll find my way

CHORUS

One heart may lie, one kiss may die

But we live, live and learn to fly

Beyond the darkest sky

Stronger than the night

If you hold me now, all that I feel is yours

'Cause you're the only reason to love

What you are to me is all that you need to be

And when you touch the stars, I will be there

And when the world falls away

I will be your only reason to love

Until that day
